Make moves, allow shifts, smile more, do more, do less, say no, say yes - just remember, when it comes to your life, you are not only the artist but the masterpiece as well.” Inside, you will find the opportunity to let go, feel what you need to feel, discover your own poetic wisdom, and become the person you want to be.

Which way do I go? That is your choice to make, said the Road. But what if I go the wrong way? The Road curved a little, almost as if it was giving me a hug, and said, Do not worry. Sometimes we go the wrong way on our way to the right way. It's okay to be afraid or to sometimes wander down the wrong path. Bestselling poet and activist Cleo Wade's What the Road Said features illustrations by Lucie de Moyencourt and encourages us to lead with kindness and curiosity, remembering that the most important thing we can do in life is to keep going.

We tweet; we text; but do we really talk? Isn't it true that we have more and more "friends" through social media, and yet fewer and fewer people who REALLY know us? What if we had a way to be intentional about sharing our deepest feelings while, even more importantly, growing deeper in our faith in Jesus Christ? As women, don't we feel a longing to really know someone and be equally known? Heart2Heart is a compilation of fifty devotions and penetrating questions designed to be experienced by two women committed to meeting weekly together over coffee, tea, lunch, or yummy dessert! Do you have a friend you'd like to get to know better? Would you like to be mentored by an older woman but are not sure exactly what you would talk about? Do you have a friend who is uncertain about her faith with whom you'd like to have deeper spiritual conversations? Do you feel the isolation of having 500 friends on social media, but no one really knows the real you? Heart2Heart can be the answer to each of these! Join authors Vicki Lassiter and Kelli Lawrence as they share their own experiences and spiritual insights in easy-to-read weekly devotions. Choose another woman with whom to share this simple yet profound way to learn more about Jesus and each other, and let's get started REALLY talking!

National security decision makers face an uncertain world where the accelerated growth of knowledge has changed the character of technological advance and destabilized long-standing relations within and among the military services. Dr Mandeles separates the principles that guide decision making from the proverbs through a case study of decision making in the early post-World War II period. This study examines the impact of organization on the invention and development of jet propulsion-in the form of the B-52-and illustrates both the organizational conditions conducive to developing new operational concepts and the organizational innovations necessary to implement new technology. This study also examines how the Air Force organized to learn and acquire new technology, how the Air Force conceived or identified problems, and how it organized to ensure management would respond to program failure or errors. Attention is devoted to the origins of the weapons system operational requirement, the initial concept of operation, the evolution of technology, organizational structure, and implementation.
