Inhabited: The Story of Malaga Island | Bowdoin College

Island of the Blue Dolphins is a 1960 children's novel by American writer Scott O'Dell, which tells the story of a 12-year-old girl named Karana stranded alone for years on an island off the California coast. It is based on the true story of Juana Maria, a Nicoleño Native American left alone for 18 years on San Nicolas Island during the 19th century. Island of the Blue Dolphins won the Newbery Medal in 1961. It was adapted into a film of the same name in 1964. O'Dell later wrote a sequel

“Gilligan's Island” star Tina Louise pays tribute to Dawn

For all of its fictional elements, Island of the Blue Dolphins is taken from a real story. According to the National Park Service, the character of Karana is based on a woman who has been known variously as the Lone Woman of San Nicolas Island, a "wild woman," and, after her conditional baptism by local priests in Santa Barbara, Calif., Juana Maria.. The island where she spent 18 years in

The Story Of Annie Moore “ Ellis Island”s First Immigrant

In his award-winning book, O'Dell called her Karana. But that woman of San Nicolas is as famous for her namelessness as for the lonely adventure she endured. Long before Cabrillo “discovered” the Channel Islands in the 1500s, the Nicoleño, a tribe thought to have lived there for 10,000 years, inhabited them.
